MRS. MCGILL BROKE DOWN

Gives the Real Facts in Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good. One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good, I was surprised, and took some more.

Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui.

Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the great value of this tonic remedy, for diseases peculiar to women. Are you a sufferer? Yes? Cardui is the medicine you need. We urge you to try it.

Prehistoric Cave Discovered.
While hunting in the Manzano mountains, J. T. McMullen discovered a prehistoric cave in a deep canon between Torreon and Manzano. The cave is almost inaccessible, but McMullen in following a fox crept up to it. The opening is large enough for a man to enter erect. McMullen explored three rooms connected by narrow high passages. There were drawings and charcoal markings on the walls, and the floor was leveled up with logs. What appeared to be three walking sticks were also found.

ITALY'S WAR IN TRIPOLI

It is Bringing to the Surface Many Interesting Discoveries

SCIENCE OF VULCANOLOGY

Women Declaim Vehemently Against General Suffrage for Men.

(By Special Lensed Wire to New Mexico)
Rome, April 6.—The military attacks of the different countries at the embassies here consider the war in Tripoli as an excellent field for experimenting in new war systems and machines. The aeroplanes have proved that when the weather permits them to fly with comparative security, they can be employed for offensive purposes. Special automobiles to drive over the sand of the desert have done good service, but are so expensive that it would be impossible to use them wholesale for the advance of a whole army. The railway appears to still remain the best system of transportation and the one which will in the end be even cheaper than camels. Each train is provided with an armored car, which forms a kind of small moving fortress provided with quick firing guns so placed as to command a considerable range in all directions thus ensuring the safety of the train, the troops and provisions which are transported.

Get it or Die.
An interesting experiment which is now being made by the Italian military authorities at Tripoli is that of using the native troops of the Erythraean colony, who are in the majority Mussulmans, against the Turks and Arabs of the new colony. Several hundreds have already landed and have astonished the natives of Tripoli with their order, discipline, loyalty to Italy and especially by their cleanliness. The specialty of these troops is their wonderful mobility, as they do not require the enormous quantity of provisions and accommodations which are necessary for the modern European soldier. Their equipment consists only of sheep skins, which each carries for himself. Most of them are decorated with two medals, one gained through fighting the Abyssinians, and the other in the war against the Dervishes, when Italy occupied the fort of Kassala, which has now returned to the Anglo-Egyptians. They declare that they are now determined to get a third decoration, fighting the Turks and Arabs. "Either get it or die," they say.

Monument on Archaeological Promenade.
While the enterprise of Tripoli is far from being accomplished, the proposal has been put forward to raise a monument to the conquest of that African province. The proposal is even accomplished by the plan of the monument, which is suggested, should be formed of ancient stones gathered from the Roman forum, the Palatine and the Colosseum, and be erected in the center of what is here called the Archaeological promenade, a kind of park in the heart of the ancient remains of Rome. The meaning of the monument would be a return of Rome to her ancient dominions across the Mediterranean, and a glorification of young Italy.

Women Object to Franchise Law.
The Italian Chamber is about to discuss the reform of the franchise proposed by Premier Giolitti, according to which, for the first time in Italy, even illiterates will be allowed to vote on condition that they have served in the army or that they are over 30 years of age. The Italian suffragettes have risen in arms and have addressed a most violent protest to the members of the government, the senators and deputies, against the exclusion of women from the right to vote, which is against "all the principles of justice and equality," and is not justified considering the "ameliorated culture of modern woman, her more direct participation in the social life of the country, and, indeed, her superiority to the illiterate male masses when the new bill admits to this privilege." The general committee of the women urges all members of parliament who have declared themselves favorable to grant the vote to the fair sex to fight now for their cause, especially against the argument of those who, maintaining that it is too grave a problem, would abstain from any concession. Meanwhile the committeewomen will keep up an agitation among all the women of the country, which will not be abated until they have obtained their wishes.

Science of Vulcanology.
The science of vulcanology is about to receive new impetus in Italy through the creation of an Italian Vulcanologic institute and of an International Vulcanologic Institute. The former will be simply the adaptation after having been provided with all the new systems and instruments of the old Vesuvian Observatory, which, although not up to date, rendered such good service during the last great eruption of 1906, when it was under the direction of the late Prof. Matteucci, with Mr. Frank Perret, of New York, as assistant. The observatory is now directed by Prof. Marcellini, one of the most eminent Italian scholars of the science of vulcanology. The International Institute will be a private enterprise, although supported by several governments and by Italian and foreign scientific bodies, and is due to the initiative of Prof. Immanuel Friedlaender, who, although a German by birth, has lived for many years in Naples. Prof. Friedlaender is a passionate student of the volcanic phenomena which he has investigated, going to Japan, the Hawaii Islands and to Central and South America. King Victor has received

Pretty Mothers

Health is the foundation of all good looks. The wise woman realizes this and takes precautions to preserve her health and strength through the period of child bearing. She remains a pretty mother by avoiding as far as possible the suffering and dangers of such occasions. This every woman may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a remedy that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good, that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for external application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend has been used and endorsed by thousands of mothers, and its use will prove a comfort and benefit to any woman in need of such a remedy. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers, which contains much valuable information. Mother's Friend

INCREASED COST OF HOGS STRENGTHEN PRICES.
Adverse Crop Reports Have Tendency to Lift Wheat, Corn and Oats Market.

(By Special Lensed Wire to New Mexico)
Chicago, Ill., April 6.—Cool temperatures and much rain and some snow in the Northwest making conditions adverse for seeding, had a tendency today to lift the price of wheat. Buying also followed reports of winter killing in scattered districts throughout many states. Initial sales here were at 1-8 to 3-8c advance. July started at 97 to 97 1/8, a rise of 1-4 to 3-8c and mounted to 97 5/8c.

The close was easy with July at 97 1/2c, a net gain of 5-8c. Unsettled weather made corn firm. Wheat strength counted also in favor of bulls. May opened a shade off to 1-8c up at 76 1/2 to 76 5/8-3/4, and ascended to 76 7/8.

The market continued firm throughout, closing 1-2c higher for May at 77 1/2-1-8c.

Oats developed firmness with other grains, but met an unusual selling by commission houses. May started 1-8 to 1-4c higher at 55 3/4 to 55 7/8 and touched 55 7-8-9/16.

Increased cost of hogs gave provisions an upward tilt. Trade however, was only moderate. First prices varied from last night's level, to 5c dearer, with July delivery 17.45 to 17.50 for pork; 10.00 for lard and 9.82-1/2 for ribs.

SHE QUIT COFFEE.
And Much Good Came From It.

It is hard to believe that coffee will put a person in such a condition as it did a woman of Apple Creek, O. She tells her own story.

"I did not believe coffee caused my trouble, and frequently said I liked it so well I would not quit drinking it, even if it took my life, but I was a miserable sufferer from heart trouble and nervous prostration for four years.

"I was scarcely able to be around at all. Had no energy and did not care for anything. Was emaciated and had a constant pain around my heart until I thought I could not endure it. I felt as though I was liable to die any time.

"Frequently I had nervous chills and the least excitement would drive sleep away, and any little noise would upset me terribly. I was gradually getting worse until finally, one day, it came over me and I asked myself what is the use of being sick all the time and buying medicine so that I could indulge myself in coffee?"

"So I thought I would see if I could quit drinking coffee, and got some Postum to help me quit. I made it strictly according to directions and I want to tell you that change was the greatest step in my life. It was easy to quit coffee because I had the Postum which I like better than I liked the old coffee. One by one the old troubles left, until now I am in splendid health, nerves steady, heart all right and the pain all gone. Never have any more nervous chills, don't take any medicine, can do all my housework and have done a great deal besides.

"My sister-in-law, who visited me this summer, had been an invalid for some time, much as I was. I got her to quit coffee and drink Postum. She gained five pounds in three weeks, and I never saw such a change in anyone's health."

"There's a reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.
